Testimonial

As a student at Nait, I was very satisfied with the accommodation provided by Flying Stone Canada. It worked great for me because the bus transit was very convenient, just a couple of minutes to walk and a few more to ride. The place was also clean and the roommates were very responsible, friendly and easy to get along with.

In addition, I was very impressed with the honesty of the company and their high level of professionalism. During the hectic time of studying, I had forgotten that I had already paid my last month's rent as per the original arrangement. Instead, I overpaid one more month's of additional rent. I didn't even realize it until they contacted me and email transferred me back the additional payment, which was a pleasant surprise to me before Christmas.

I would deem Flying Stone Canada as a highly professional property management company and they will be my first choice whenever I need a rental accommodation in the future.

Sincerely,
